Hayden-Grace Francis To Help Lead Irish-American Culture and History

ALBANY, N.Y. - The Irish American Heritage Museum's Board of Directors announced today the appointment of Hayden-Grace Francis as the Museum's new Assistant Director. Working closely with Executive Director Michael C. Clarke, Francis will help shape the Museum's programming, operations and storytelling for new generations.

Francis brings a lifelong passion for Irish history, culture, and the arts. A summa cum laude graduate of Siena College with a degree in history, Francis is also a certified Irish dance instructor through An Coimisiun le Rinci Gaelacha, The Commission of Irish Dance, which is headquartered in Dublin, Ireland. Francis' studies and love for global cultures have taken her from Ireland to South Korea, where she pursued historical studies in Korea University.

"I have been involved in the Irish arts since birth, thanks to my parents' encouragement and love for our heritage," said Francis. "I am both thrilled and honored to work with Michael, the Board of Directors and with the remarkable community they have built at IAHM, and to continue telling the important story of the Irish in America."

IAHM's Board Chair Liam McNabb shared: "Just this year alone, the Museum's exhibits and programming has gained attention on both sides of the Atlantic. We are excited to welcome Francis as Assistant Director, and look forward to the energy, talents and insight she will bring to advancing IAHM's mission."

Executive Director Michael C. Clarke added: "Like Francis, I am also the child of immigrant parents. Francis' passion for our shared culture is both understandable and infectious. I am excited to see the impact Francis will have upon our the Museum's members and visitors alike, and upon IAHM's future telling of the story of our Irish and American heritage."

In addition to exhibitions, IAHM hosts a robust series of programs, including traditional Irish music sessions and performances, lectures, cooking demonstrations, once a month traditional and folk (“Trad/Folk”) Irish performances, film screenings, and assorted one-person shows, plays, and busking experiences.
